This tournament is being held alongside the Just Dogs Live Event on the 10th-12th July 2015

Just Dogs Live incorporates the East of England Championship Dog Show and will include the traditional Crufts qualifier showing classes. As well as this main event there is a Companion Dog Show, a KC licensed 3-day Agility Show and a Crufts 2016 Flyball qualifier.

The show will also feature additional attractions, including demonstrations and competitions to ensure the event is a fantastic day out for all dog lovers, young and old.

Just a selection of the demos, have-a-goes and competitions that are happening are...

Team Ginger - UK & HWV Agility Display Team
East Anglian Staffordshire Display Team
West Midlands Shutzhund Club
Obedience & Protection Display
Positive Pooches UK Rally Display
Ask the Expert - Training, Grooming, Canine Body Language

For more information please see their website - <http://www.justdogslive.co.uk/>

The area of the showground that is covered by the BFA sanctioned tournament is not part of UK Kennel Club Licensed show, and you are free to come and go as you please. If you wish to visit the main show you are also free to do so, and we will supply you with wrist bands to enable you to enter the show FOC. However, if you wish to take your dog into the KC area of the showground, you will be required to sign a declaration form in accordance with the KC rules. These forms will be readily available in the secretary's area of our show.

The Crufts Flyball qualifier will be run on the Saturday afternoon after the starters tournament has finished. These are both classified as fun events and dogs may not race in the BFA open tournament on the same day that they are taking part in either of these fun events, in accordance with BFA rule 5.2 b) ...

5.2 b) Dogs may not be entered for racing in more than one team at an open/multibreed BFA Sanctioned Tournament Dogs may not take part in starters, intermediate or fun events on the same day as they are entered in open/multibreed

Show Rules and Regulations
